Whereas, the General Assembly enacted the North Carolina Trails System Act in 1973, declaring that trails should be established in natural, scenic areas of the State, and in and near urban areas, in order to promote public access to, travel within, and enjoyment and appreciation of the outdoor, natural, and remote areas of the State; and

Whereas, the State Trails Act provides that trails may be designated and managed as units of the State Parks System; and

Whereas, the Deep River in Randolph, Moore, Lee, and Chatham Counties is considered nationally significant for its biological resources, including globally rare species of fish and mussels; and
